Clothing in Skylands

Bhutan

In Bhutan, school children's uniforms are the national dress: the gho (boys) and kira (girls).

Central Tibet

In Lhasa and other parts of Central Tibet in China, married women wear aprons with horizontal stripes. Single women do not wear these aprons.

Kham

In Kham areas (eastern Tibet in China), people often braid bright red wool into their hair.

Amdo

In Amdo regions (like Qinghai, China), Tibetan clothing often has beautiful crosses embroidered along the edges.

Yeti

Trekkers in the Himalayas have not yet found the shops where yetis buy their amazing white coats.
