

A GUIDE TO THE BUNU PEOPLE

2000 years ago the Bunu lived in the valleys of Hunan and survived through hunting and fishing. As the Han Chinese expanded in southern China, the Bunu were forced to migrate south to their present location. The Han and Zhuang often seized Bunu land and slaughtered entire communities.

Because of the persecution we find the Bunu nowadays in very remote mountain areas. Their villages are small and often not easy to find. Even today many villages are only accessible on foot.

From Southwest China - 850,000 Bunu people.

Living in very remote mountainous areas.

80% of their land is rock,
so their main crop is corn.

Most of their water is collected in homemade water butts.

0.0% Christian,
no churches, no Bible
translation.

Animism: spirit worship,
animal sacrifices, witch doctors.

The Bunu are one of the largest people groups in China without a single known church. There are only a very small number of scattered Bunu believers. Their ethnic and linguistic diversity and geographic isolation have kept them from hearing the Gospel.

MEKONG
MINORITIES

[http://omf.org/asia/
mekong-minorities](http://omf.org/asia/mekong-minorities)